

MiTeam

MiTeam - for more effective internal communication

MiTeam provides more functions and a better experience in your softphone and mobile switchboard.

Direct- and group chat on computer and mobile

The chat function can be used both as a direct chat between two people and with several participants who can be added afterwards. The function follows the same field of application regardless of interface (softphone and app).

History provides security

The online chat has built-in history, which means that all chats are stored for up to one month. If the person sought is not available when the message is sent, the recipient receives the message when next logged in. With a mobile the message can be sent directly to the recipient.

Share documents directly with colleagues

Regardless of whether two or several persons are participating in the chat, documents can be shared to be used, for example, for a presentation (this is not the same thing as screen sharing). Naturally, document sharing can be used in combination with other functions such as planned or scheduled telephone meetings.

Structure with to do lists

To do lists enable you to structure your work by creating smart activity lists. It is also simple and easy to share these lists with colleagues.

Communication via speech or video directly in the telephonist interface

Hold meetings directly via video, call or online. It is simple to invite one or several (max. seven) internal and external participants, who equally simply can participate directly via their softphone, app or online.
